- Please make sure to note down the CRNs (Course Registration Numbers) of the courses you have selected from your schedule.
- A CRN is a 5-digit number assigned to each course, representing details such as the course code, name, day, time, classroom, and eligible departments for that specific term (e.g., In the image below, the course with CRN 10096 is a MAT 103 course).
- When creating your course schedule, ensure that the timings of your selected courses do not overlap. Otherwise, you will receive a time conflict warning and will not be able to register for the course.

- Additionally, when selecting courses from different campuses, consider the commuting time between campuses.
- For each course, please note down one or more alternative CRNs as well. If a course reaches its maximum capacity, you won't be able to enroll in your chosen course. Therefore, it is crucial to identify backup CRNs.

IMPORTANT NOTE ABOUT COURSE TRANSFER:

If you have previously taken a course at another Higher Education institution and wish to transfer it, you must apply for course equivalence in accordance with the "ITU Course Equivalency Procedures" as outlined in the announcement published on the www.sis.itu.edu.tr page. The course equivalency process is completed after evaluation by the faculty and department course equivalency committees and the results are recorded in the Student Information System (SIS).

https://www.sis.itu.edu.tr/duyuru_ekler/dersintibak/202410/intibak-EN.php

Since the course equivalency process takes place after the course registration period, it is recommended to register for all your 1st-semester courses between September 18 and September 21. After course equivalencies are announced, based on your equivalency report, you can request changes to your course schedule (dropping courses for which equivalency has been granted and adding new courses) by logging into the system at <http://www.sis.itu.edu.tr/onkayitlar/onlineDerskayit/basvuru/> using your ITU user account.
